TALENT MANAGEMENT FOR SMALL AND MEDIUM ENTERPRISES Rtn. Bharathan Prahalad

On 18th January, 2018 our own club Green Rotarian Bharathan Prahalad spoke on 'TALENT MANAGEMENT FOR SMALL AND MEDIUM ENTERPRISES'.

Through his PPT Presentation he covered the whole gamut of issues pertaining to retention, motivation, management, optimal utilisation, etc. etc. of a work force in any organisation which is small or medium.

It was very interesting and he kept us all glued to his presentation with his ease of connecting to the audience and the various real life experiences he had to share. When asked about Large Organisations, he also said that for larger organisations there were a different set of issues considering their distributed presence within and outside the country.

All in all an enjoyable and educative evening well spent

VETERINARY CAMP - TIRUVALLUR 21.01.2018

Rotary Club of Madras Chennai Patna began 2018 with a bang by conducting its first social activity (veterinary camp) at Kalyan Kuppam village near Thiruvallur on January 21.

It was also my first outing after getting inducted into RCCP in the first week of January.

To make the programme a lively one, President Valli Kannu suggested visiting Sri Vaidhya Veeraraghava temple, followed by a visit to the camp, which was conducted by Rotarian Dr. A. Sangaran. First about the ancient temple, which is maintained by Ahobila Mutt. Every one had a good darshan of Lord Vishnu and other deities. Temple was less crowded despite being a Sunday.

At Kalyan Kuppam village, we were greeted by Dr. Sangaran, who along with his assistant had already started treating the animals from this village. Dr. Sangaran is no stranger to the Rotarians as he has conducted 300 health camps since 2000. Kudos for his commitment and dedication. "I go whenever people call me for help or else these villagers have to walk at least eight kms to get treatment for their cattles, animals or birds," he said.

During the half day camp, he treated 72 cattles, 43 calves, 117 sheeps, 162 goats and 43 poultry for general ailments, deworming and deticking. It was an eye opener for two teenagers in our group as they are not exposed to rural scenario. In fact, one of them screamed when Dr Sangaran punched injection on the back of the cattles. He also explained in detail the different types of treatment given to different animals for different diseases. Villagers participated in the camp with enthusiasm and took nutritional and vitamin supplements along with tablets and ointment.

"My passion will continue in the welfare of animal health. This will ultimately help the farmers who are solely depended on the cattles and animals to carry out farming activities and to live a decent life," Dr. Sangaran said. He appreciated student volunteers of NSS for their interest and involvement and Rotarians for their continued support in helping out the community in whatever way they can.

We left the camp with a feel good factor, after realising, how important it is to look after the health of animals, as they are an integral part of the food pyramid. On behalf of RCCP, we requested Dr. Sangaran to conduct health camps without any break and assured our full support.
